“The Well” is a community-focused ministry that often includes a food pantry among its services to support individuals and families facing food insecurity. A food pantry at The Well typically provides essential groceries and non-perishable items to those in need, helping to alleviate hunger and ensure that everyone has access to nutritious food. The pantry relies on donations from local businesses, community members, and partnerships with food banks to stock their shelves. Volunteers play a crucial role in organizing, distributing, and managing the food supplies, creating a welcoming and supportive environment for those who visit. By fostering a sense of community and compassion, the food pantry at The Well not only addresses immediate needs but also contributes to long-term community resilience. Clearances are not required to volunteer at the pantry, but a Civil Rights Training booklet must be read. If you are interested in volunteering or would like more information, please contact Judy Flemmens or John Sajko.
